About the Demonstration School of Lampang Rajabhat University We are a growing school with over 300 students at preschool, kindergarten, and primary levels and anticipate opening a secondary program next year. As a demonstration school we operate under the Faculty of Education at Lampang Rajabhat University and help train student teachers, engage in educational research, and provide professional development and example programs for schools in our area. Our school is located on the edge of Lampang City - a cozy town in Northern Thailand a little over an hour's drive away from Chiang Mai.
