

Page 1

School:	Private
University:	N/A
Others:	Native or Non-native Speakers
Name of School or University:	Satit Bilingual School of Rangsit University
Location:	Pathumtani
Working time:	Full-time
Write or Paste Ad:	Satit Bilingual School of Rangsit University in Pathum Thani is in search of a Secondary General Science Teacher to join their international teaching team starting May 23, 2024, with a competitive salary of approximately 60,000 Baht, dependent on qualifications and experience. Our preferred candidate should possess dynamic qualities, professional certification, and a commitment to student development through both curricular and extracurricular activities. Responsibilities include teaching General Science according to Cambridge Curriculum standards, curriculum preparation, assessment, classroom management, parent communication, and participation in school events. Qualifications include an education degree in a relevant field, professional teaching certification, and preferably a Master's degree, possessing at least 2 years of teaching experience, familiarity with international curricula, and proficiency in English. Safeguarding and student welfare are paramount, with stringent background checks required for all applicants. Benefits include competitive salary, full-time employment, insurance coverage, paid holidays, and assistance with legal procedures. Interested applicants should submit a cover letter, CV, references, and other required documents to the provided email addresses, with the subject line "Application for General Science Teacher". For more details, visit the school website at https://www.sbs.ac.th
Upload logo::	No
File png, jpg, gif:	N/A