

Page 1

School:	Private
University:	N/A
Others:	Native Speakers Only
Name of School or University:	Thai-Japanese Association School
Location:	Bangkok
Working time:	Full-time
Write or Paste Ad:	Thai-Japanese Association School in Bangkok, Thailand, seeks a Primary English Teacher with a monthly salary of 80,000 Thai baht, potentially higher based on Japanese language proficiency. Located in the heart of Bangkok, the school accommodates nearly 2,500 Japanese students and 150 teachers, making it the largest Japanese school outside of Japan. Ideal candidates, interested in Japanese culture and desiring a professional yet relaxed experience in Thailand, are encouraged to apply. The comprehensive job benefits include a competitive starting compensation, annual bonuses, a provident retirement fund, a long-term service allowance, 40 days of paid vacation, airfare for candidates outside Thailand, health insurance, and support for visa and work permits. The general job description involves teaching English independently and collaboratively, preparing engaging materials, standard planning, record-keeping, and participation in extracurricular activities. Qualified applicants must be native English speakers with passports from specific countries, possess a relevant education degree, hold QTS or a teaching license, and provide necessary documents, including a criminal background check. Interested candidates should send their CV/resume to Jeff at recruitment.tjas@gmail.com, and only those meeting the specified qualifications will be contacted. Direct inquiries to the school are discouraged due to the high volume of applications.
Upload logo::	No
File png, jpg, gif:	N/A